

THE DUBLIN REVIEW.

91.

THIRD SERIES.

VOL. VIII.

JULY—OCTOBER.

MDCCCLXXXII.

PUBLIC LIBRARY,
DETROIT MICH.
SEP 17 1888

LONDON: BURNS & OATES.

DUBLIN: M. H. GILL & SON.

BALTIMORE: KELLY, PIET & CO.

—
1882.

A

A

A

CONTENTS.

ART. I.—“THE SACRED BOOKS OF THE EAST”	PAGE 1
Interest of the subject-matter of “The Sacred Books of the East”—Native faiths of China: Confucianism, its classical books, and Taouism—Persia and the Parsis; interest and importance of their sacred literature—Zoroaster and his doctrine—Hinduism: Professor Max Müller’s Hindu texts—Mr. Rhys Davids’ Buddhist texts—“The Sacred Books” give little fresh information regarding the system of Islam—The spirit in which non-Christian systems should be studied: their historical and practical value, and danger of the study.
ART. II.—ELECTRIC LIGHTING	33
Stimulus given by Mr. Edison to scientific industry—Most important recent development of Electric Lighting—Electricity not likely to altogether supersede coal-gas—What electricity is; how generated—Siemens’ armature and Wild’s generator—Dynamo generators—Conductors: their importance—Lamps: The “arc” lamp—The “incandescent” lamp: their manufacture—Subdivision of electric current—The question of storing electric energy: various forms of accumulators—The question of “cost.”
ART. III.—THE NOMENCLATURE OF THE DAYS OF THE WEEK .	56
Study of European languages under a religious aspect: degree of pagan element in them—Struggle between pagan and Christian terminology—The nomenclature of the week—1, in Latin: word “feria”—2, in Greek—
VOL. VIII.—NO. I. [Third Series.]	A

3, in Slav tongues—4, in the Teutonic dialects—5, in Basque—6, in Irish—Table of results : proportion of religious, indifferent, and pagan elements—The cause of disproportion of these elements in various tongues; nature of a country's conversion—Preponderance of religious element in Irish : Ireland's sudden and universal conversion and faith.

ART. IV.—S. FRANCIS DE SALES : DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH 74

Praise of S. Francis by various holy men and others—Value of the various biographies of the Saint—His youth : influence of his mother—His studies : his favourite authors—His controversial writings : Contents of "The Controversies" described—His devotional writings : sermons, letters, and treatises—The Saint as a preacher—His numerous letters : they form a body of doctrine—His treatises : "Introduction to a Devout Life" and "The Love of God"—The "Spirit of S. Francis de Sales."

ART. V.—THE VICES OF AGNOSTIC POETRY 104

Religion a chief source of sublimity in poetry : its loss among agnostic writers great—Their offensive familiarity with God and the name of Christ—Their pantheism and dismal view of life—Perversion of the term "æsthetic"—Agnostic poetry superficial and obscure, exuberant of ornament—Their paganism and its origin : the germs in Shelley, Keats, and Walter Savage Landor : development in A. C. Swinburne—His "Songs before Sunrise"—Thomson's "City of Dreadful Night"—Influence religious poetry has had on the world : agnostic effort to undo this—Advantages of the Christian over the agnostic poet—The great poet still to arise.

ART. VI.—CATHOLICISM IN NORTH AFRICA 127

Significance of Mgr. Lavigerie's elevation to the Cardinalate—Decline of Christianity in North Africa—Present condition of Christian Missions : new missionary district of the Sahara and Soudan—The Kabyles and the Touaregs, lost and lapsed progeny of early African Christians—Condition, customs, and history of the Touaregs—Tripoli the station of the Algerian missionaries—The town and population of R'damès : life there public and domestic—An exploratory journey of two missionaries to the Azguer-Touaregs—A fatal journey—Jesuit mission among the Kabyles—Instances of Arab heroism in the cause of Christianity—Christian Archæology of North Africa.

ART. VII.—MR. FREEMAN'S "WILLIAM RUFUS" 158

Archaisms, &c., of Mr. Freeman's style—His account of the sieges of Tunbridge, Pevensey, and Rochester—Mr. Freeman's faults as a historian—His account of the appeal of St. Anselm—He admits a grave charge against the Saint's sanctity—Graver accusations in the teeth of authorities—Mr. Freeman's failure to establish his contentions.

ART. VIII.—IRELAND 182

The joint Letter of the Irish Bishops—Its importance—Ireland's troubles owing in great measure to British and Protestant injustice in the past and absence of sympathy in the present—Evictions : their number and atrocity—The "Prevention of Crime" Bill : will not improbably result in condemnations without evidence—Danger to Ireland from communistic agitators : Mr. Davitt and the Irish World—The latest demonstration of the landlords.

LETTERS OF POPE LEO XIII. 201

Letter to the Bishops of Sicily—Apostolic letters on the Reform of the Order of St. Basil.

SCIENCE NOTICES 209

A New Antiseptic Process—Eucalyptus and the Roman Malaria—Dr. Siemens on Solar Energy—The Photography of Rapid Motions.

NOTICES OF CATHOLIC CONTINENTAL PERIODICALS 213

Katholik—Hist. Jahrbuch der Goerres-Gesellschaft—Historisch-politische Blätter—La Civiltà Cattolica—Le Contemporain.

NOTICES OF BOOKS

PAGE

225

Abbé Pimont's Hymnes du Bréviaire Romain—Westcott and Hort's Greek New Testament—Father Kleutgen's Institutiones Theologicæ—Father Knabenbaur's Prophet Isaias—Father Nilles's Kalendarium Ecclesiæ Orientalis et Occidentalis—Rev. S. Kettlewell's Thomas à Kempis—Mr. Holmes-Forbes' Science of Beauty—Dr. Decès' Science et Vérité—Mr. Guinness Rogers's Church Systems of England—Paul Fournier's La Question agraire en Irlande—M. Wilson-Cowley's Histoire d'Irlande—Ralston's Tibetan Tales—Madhava Acharya's Hindu Philosophy—Rev. W. Henley Jervis's Gallican Church—Pabisch and Byrne's Alzog's Church History—"Granville Reader" History of England—Abbé Riche's Somme de S. Paul—Rev. F. Hall's Fasting Communion—M. A. Meredith's Theotokos—Miss Clerke's Flying Dutchman—Dr. Young's The Sun—Debrett's Peerage—Mr. Maskell's Ancient English Liturgy, and Monumenta Ritualia—Heinrich Heine's Religion and Philosophy in Germany—Speaker's Commentary, Vol. IV.—Agnes Wilmott's History—My Lady at Last—Rev. F. G. Lee's Reginald Barentyne.

CONTENTS.

	PAGE
ART. I.—WILLIAM GEORGE WARD	265
General feeling of loss: and general expression of regret at his death—The important work he did for and through THE DUBLIN REVIEW—His last expression as to the condition and dangers of English Catholics— Catalogue of Mr. Ward's writings.
ART. II.—ALESSANDRO MANZONI AND HIS WORKS	273
Place of Manzoni in Italian literature—Parallel between Manzoni and Scott—Manzoni's biography: childhood, youth, marriage; his re-conversion to Catholicity—He writes "I Promessi Sposi"—ends his literary career— Domestic life and letters—His character and appear- ance—Analysis of his three important works: "Il Conte di Carmagnola," "Adelchi," and "I Promessi Sposi"—His lyrical poems—Manzoni's great task was the formation of a literary vernacular.
ART. III.—THE RESURRECTION OF IRELAND	302
Mr. Lecky's qualifications as an historian—His accurate account of English ascendancy in Ireland—Penal laws at accession of George III., and wretched condition of the peasantry—Rapid and favourable change in their condition after 1760: Irish parliamentary action at this time—Influence of the American War of In- dependence—Amelioration of commercial and civil disabilities in 1778, and rise of volunteer movement— Repeal of commercial restraints—Agitation for legislative independence—Removal of many of the religious disabilities.	PAGE

ART. IV.—THE CHILDHOOD OF RELIGIONS	331
Mr. Clodd's books clever and mischievous—The discussions about the origin of religions have shown the existence of some religion in every nation and race—Community of type in all religions: Christian explanation of—Modern explanatory theory rejects a primitive revelation—Fallacy of taking root of word "spirit" as a proof—Attempt to reach monotheism through dualism: Persian dualism a corruption of monotheism—Retrogression and not progress to be traced in history of classic paganism, of Indian, and of Jewish religions—Superiority of Vedic over Brahmanic Hinduism: Varuna the last trace of a lost monotheism—Buddhism not a step upwards to monotheism—Traces in all religions of an original monotheism—Mr. Clodd's use of the Bible.
ART. V.—BERTHOLD AUERBACH	354
Birth and childhood of Auerbach at Nordstettin; simplicity of life there—Nature of the Suabian dialect—Auerbach travels, and discovers the Black Forest—His Village Tales: "Barfüssele," a local Cinderella, and "Edelweiss;" most fascinating—His strong German sympathies, and the story of "Waldfried"—His 'Auf der Höhe' an attempt to teach Spinoza's philosophy: an outline of the story—His last story, "Landolin"—Three great German literary Slaves since Goethe: Heine, Freiligrath, and Auerbach, compared—Auerbach's rank and work.
ART. VI.—THE COREA	373
Corea the "forbidden land:" also the land of martyrs—Its physical aspect; its people, their superstitious religion—Singular beginning of Christianity, without priests—First martyrs: the age of persecutions repeated—Brighter prospects followed by persecution of 1839—New persecution since 1864: Christians nearly swept away—Re-entry of missionaries in 1876, and renewal of persecution in 1878—Corean prison-life—Question of toleration for Christians and Corean foreign policy of exclusion—Present prospects.

ART. VII.—TAINE'S FRENCH REVOLUTION . . . 397

The Revolution a Greek tragedy—Peculiar merit and literary defects of M. Taine's book—His study of the social causes of the revolution; the ancien régime; corruptions of society—Analysis of Rousseau's paramount influence—Violence the work of a small class: destruction of the Girondin legend—M. Taine's account of the Church and religion prior to the revolution—Causes of downfall long at work—Three enemies of the Church working together: Gallicanism, Jansenism, and Free-thinking.

ART VIII.—CATHOLIC MEMORIES OF AN OLD ENGLISH CITY . 417

North and North-west of England longest retained the faith—Story of St. Cuthbert and Durham—Building and after-history of the cathedral—Political history centring round Durham—Catholicity in Durham in Elizabeth's reign—Struggle for religion and its final overthrow: last Mass in the cathedral—Martyrs.

LETTER OF POPE LEO XIII. TO THE BISHOPS OF IRELAND . . 434

SCIENCE NOTICES 438

The British Association—The Channel Tunnel—The Canada Meeting—The Lunar Atmosphere.

NOTICES OF CATHOLIC CONTINENTAL PERIODICALS . . . 441

The Katholik—Historisch-politische Blätter—Görres-Gesellschaft Jahrbuch—La Civiltà Cattolica—Revue des Questions Historiques—Le Contemporain.

NOTICES OF BOOKS 454

Bishop Ullathorne's Groundwork of the Christian Virtues—Dr. Yanzhul's English Free Trade—Rev. J. B. Cox's Matriculation Papers in English—E. W. V. Volckx'som's

Catechism of Modern Elementary Chemistry—Aubrey de Vere's Foray of Queen Meave—Dr. Bardenhewer's Liber de Causis—Father Pope's Translation of Capecelatro's Life of St. Philip Neri—Wetzer and Welte's New Kirchenlexikon—T. W. Allies' Church and State—Miss Kershaw's Bobby and Birdie—the Youth's Cabinet—Our Little Ones—Life of Sister Francis Xavier—G. J. Romanes' Animal Intelligence—Remote Antiquity of Man not proven—Abbé Moigno's Splendeurs de la Foi—Father Wilberforce's Life of St. Lewis Bertrand—Dr. Gutberlet's Lehrbuch der Philosophie—Rev. W. Webster's Spain—Natural Religion—Mr. Mallock's Social Equality—Rev. J. A. McCallan's Sanctuary-Boys' Manual—H. L. Sidney Lear's Life of Lacordaire—Canon Bourke's Life of Archbishop MacHale—Fernan Caballero's National Pictures—Rev. T. Mozley's Reminiscences of Oriel—An Argument for the Divinity of Jesus Christ—Monsignor Seton's Essays—Father Ryder's Poems—T. Davidson's Parthenon Frieze—The Marquess of Bute's Altus of St. Columba—Rev. Edwin Hatch's Early Christian Church—Rev. W. H. Simcox's Beginning of the Christian Church—Bag-nall's Translation of Tiele's Egyptian Religion—Monsignor Preston's Protestantism and the Church—W. Scawen Blunt's Future of Islam—Rev. W. W. Skeat's Etymological Dictionary—Rev. F. Drew's Ave Maria—Faiths of the World—Marriage Laws—Seventh Volume of Brother Foley's Records.

BOOKS OF DEVOTION AND SPIRITUAL READING . . . 520

Father Pergmayr's Truths of Salvation—Works of St. Francis of Assisi—A Saint among Saints—C. Kenny's Half-Hours with Saints—Golden Sands—Father Lloyd's Saints of 1881—Belloc's Solid Virtue—Orsini's Life of the Blessed Virgin—Spirit of St. Francis de Sales—Father Moriarty's All for Love—Daily Prayer-book—Office of the Holy Ghost—Child's Hymn-book—Father Casey's Verses.